

INTRODUCING NEOLITH

A STUNNINGLY SUSTAINABLE KITCHEN WORKTOP

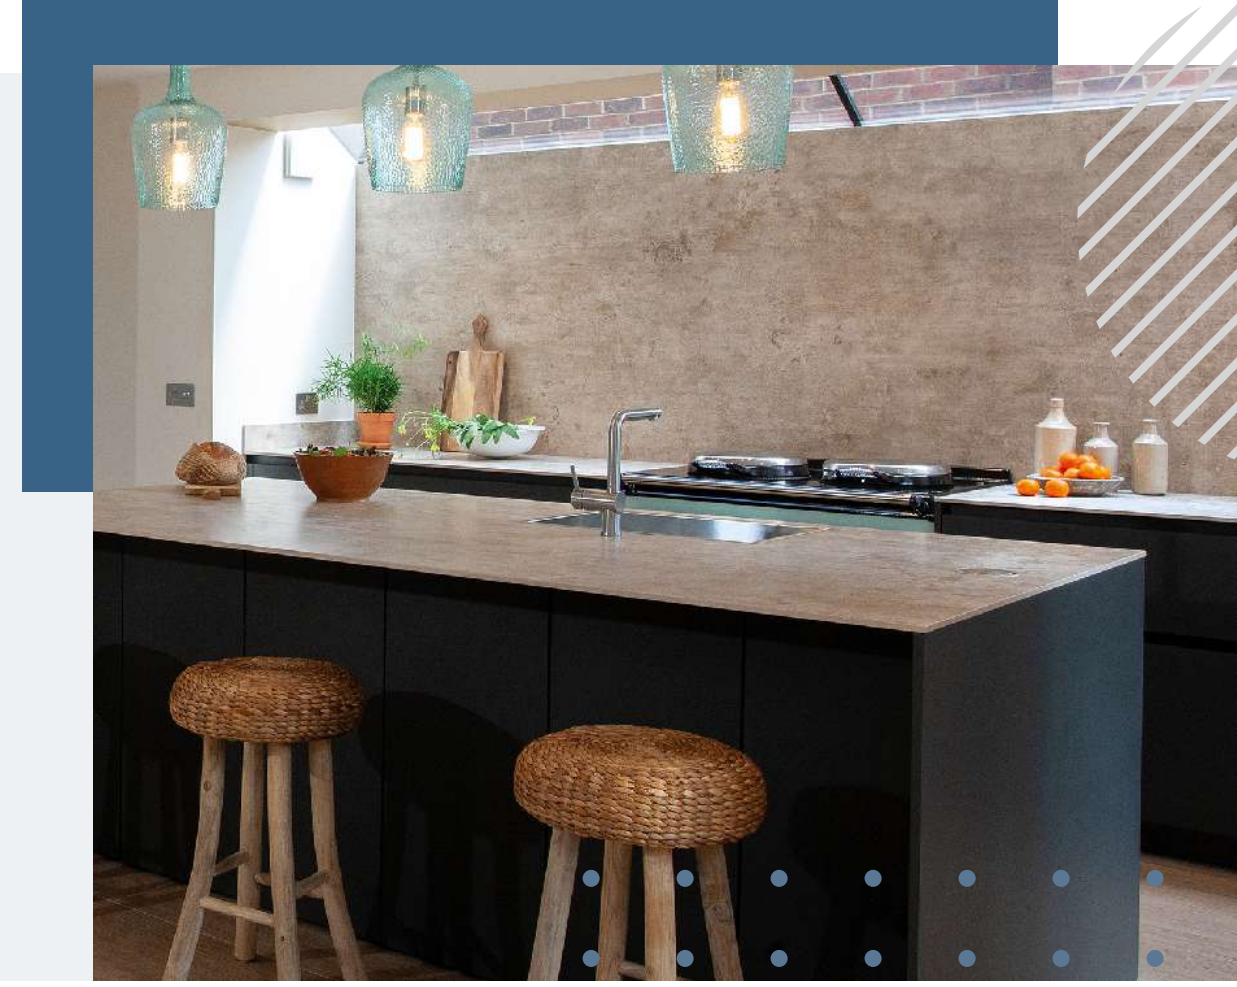

-  15 Year Warranty
-  CE Certified
-  Greenguard Certified

The kitchen is the heart of the home — the place where families and friends gather to chat over a cup of tea, prepare meals together, and catch up at the end of the day. Kitchen worktops not only define the overall look and feel of the room, but because the kitchen is often the busiest area in the house, they also have to be able to withstand a lot of action – and this is where our Neolith range comes in.

WHAT IS NEOLITH?

Neolith is a sintered stone material that gets its strength and hardness from minerals such as clay, pure quartz and feldspar. It is exceptionally stable due to the minerals from silica and glass. These natural elements are treated under extremely high pressure and temperature, which makes neolith virtually indestructible.

WHY IS NEOLITH SO POPULAR?

There are so many benefits to choosing Neolith for your kitchen worktops. Neolith is:

-  All-natural, sustainable material
-  Ultra-hygienic
-  Lightweight but extremely strong
-  Maintenance-free
-  Resistant to chemicals, heat, and scratching
-  Highly durable
-  Available in incredible variety
-  Excellent value
-  Impermeable to water

WHERE CAN NEOLITH BE USED?

Stylish yet exceptionally durable, Neolith is the perfect choice for kitchen worktops and splashbacks.

It is a very versatile material that can also be used for bathroom renovations, outdoor surfaces, and cladding on floors, walls, and cupboards.
